Western Slope Health Care Access to Expand
*Mountain Family to Break Ground in Rifle

DENVER— David Adamson, Executive Director of Mountain Family Health Centers, discussed the new Mountain Family site to be built in Rifle, Colorado, with Jeremy Alm of KJCT8, based in Grand Junction. The new location will provide access to the same high quality comprehensive primary and preventive care available at Mountain Family's Glenwood Springs and Blackhawk sites.

According to Mr. Adamson, more than a thousand of the patients cared for at the Glenwood Springs facility come from the Rifle area.

The Colorado Community Health Network (CCHN) is the collective voice for Colorado's 15 Community Health Centers (CHCs) and their patients. CHCs provide a health care home to more than 500,000 of their community members - one in 10 people in Colorado - from 58 of the state's 64 counties. Without CHCs, hundreds of thousands of Colorado's low-income families and individuals would have no regular source of health care. CCHN's mission is to increase access to high quality health care for people in need in Colorado. For more information about CCHN, please visit www.cchn.org.
